

Intersentia is an independent publishing house specialised in the fields of human rights, international law, European law, finance and accounting. Rigorous editorial control is applied (double blind peer review) and a strict quality control ensures the highest standards in legal publishing. The catalog is a mixture of leading textbooks and thorough monographs for academics and practitioners. Authors are leading authorities – both scholars and practitioners – in the different fields of law with a focus on human rights issues.

Over the years Intersentia books have won numerous prestigious international academic awards, amongst them the Fernand Collin Prize, the Max van der Stoep Human Rights Award and the Ciardi Prize. These awards reflect the growing success and appreciation of the Intersentia title list in the academic world and among readers and authors worldwide.
